Bibliography

We are beginning to collect a bibliography to be circulated among the clergy. If you read any books in the past quarter that you've found particularly worthwhile (or particularly to be avoided), please indicate their titles and authors (comments you can make about them will also be helpful):

Emmet Fox: A Spirituality named Compassion + the Healing of the Moral Wound. Harpeth, Delaply and the Excellent synthesis of feminist theology and modern Catholic thought. You see compassion as the compelling need Christians can satisfy — and look for the breakdown of hierarchies, worship (that's UP), God-up-there, and over/under hegemony. His premise is that we need to get off Jacob's ladder & into circular community.

Activities

Have you or your congregation been involved in any community activities, conferences, or media coverage during the past three months? This news may be passed on to In Unity for publication. Please describe these events and attach photographs, newspaper articles, etc., if available.

Ongoing fight with the Providence Police Dept — see attached article.

In June, was tendered community dinner

on leaving Providence - 94 people present, including politicians, community & church leaders as well as the Sisters of Mercy, and gay community leaders.

Projections

Do you have any activities or goals planned for the next quarter? Ministers often find projections extremely valuable in developing their ministries as well as structuring growth in the church. If you have any goals/activities projected for the next 3 month period, what do these include?

I am moving from Providence to the West Coast to a proposed staff position at MCC-L.A.
where I will be doing a Christian education program. I will be seeking a pastorate in the future but feel need for a break.

We in the Fellowship Office not only welcome your feedback, we need it in order to know and serve you better. We encourage you to include your thoughts, comments and suggestions with this report, attaching additional pages if necessary.

ACTIVITIES-GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

March, 1979
Rev. Marge Ragona Providence, R.I.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Spoke on Homosexuality and Christianity at the Hillsgrove United Methodist Church. First hour was with the teens, second hour and a half with the adults. Excellent response from both.

Speaking engagement at the Somerset High School, class on marriage and the family. Dealt with homosexuality and gay rights.

Concluded our 2nd successful rap series. Twelve weeks each time, dealing with Homosexuality: Rules, roles and relationships. This rap brings us about 30 men and women who are not members of the church but from whom we enlist new members from time to time. (Last three topics were "Fantasies, Fetishes, and Fears" "The Gay Hustler" and "Gays and Mental Health"!!!)

ECUMENICAL ACTIVITIES

Attended National Council of Churches Commission on Women in Ministry meeting at Baltimore, representing UFMCC at Elder Nancy Wilson's request. Meeting was with 40 women ministerial and lay executive representatives of member groups of NCCUSA. MCC has been acting as advisory to the Task Force on Gay Issues. This meeting was important on two counts. Through the COWIM ministers, New Ways Ministry, and MCC a joint conference at Kirkridge Retreat Center in Bangor, Pa. was planned for women who had been very dissatisfied with the meeting held in 1978 called "Gay and Christian" but which made many women feel alienated because of heavy male stress in topics, speakers, etc. Women therefore planned their own conference utilizing COWIM resource people. Also COWIM Task Force on Gay Issues is planning a workshop for the next COWIM meeting on Human Sexuality (October meeting.)

Kirkridge Lesbian-Feminist-Christian Conference: Back-to-back with the COWIM conference we attended the Kirkridge retreat center conference in order to speak to the issues of Christianity and Lesbianism and Feminism to a group of women who had been extremely angry about the male-centeredness of the "Gay and Christian" conference at Kirkridge, summer 1978. This conference focussed on the female gay-feminist-Christian experience, theological emphases, and language issues. It was a good conference. MCC women were well-represented (some from Canada attended, as well). We were able to offer MCC as an alternative for those alienated from male-centered gay caucuses of denominations, as well as a gay alternative to mainline Christian churches, Protestant and Catholic.

MCC ACTIVITIES

Hosted 2 day Exhorter's Conference at MCC Providence, to discuss MCAC requirements, role of exhorter, do some work on homiletics, and bring a By-Laws revision proposal. Good conference. Start of what should be many more.

Speaking Engagements: Spoke to both teens and adults of the South Kingston United Church of Christ on homosexuality and the church. on 2/25.

On 2/5 did speaking engagement on Language and Religion for Brown University.

MCC Providence belongs to Gay Community Services of R.I. and the R.I. State Coalition of Gay Organizations. We were present and instrumental in preventing a breakdown in communication and schism at GCS-RI in February. Through our efforts new By-Laws representing both factions were drawn together (each had their own and were fighting for supremacy!). The present coalition is a healthier organization than previously. Five members of MCC Providence and the pastor spent 4 sessions with the By-Laws Committee and two sessions with the entire membership on this matter.

We are beginning to collect a bibliography to be circulated among the clergy. If you read any books in the past quarter that you've found particularly worthwhile (or particularly to be avoided), please indicate their titles and authors (comments you can make about them will also be helpful):

Tillich, Hannah. From Time to Time, Stein + Day, N.Y., 1973 — a beautiful book by Paul Tillich's widow. of particular interest is the section dealing with his expectation of + experience of dying. For us, as ministers who rarely deal with age + dying, the wisdom sharing of these last moments together can teach us much about how people can live life to the very end, being enriched + productive to the final moment, even though physically ill, aged, + in pain. A peaceful, loving, joyful.

Activities

Have you or your congregation been involved in any community activities, conferences, or media coverage during the past three months? This news may be passed on to In Unity for publication. Please describe these events and attach photographs, newspaper articles, etc., if available.

Running battle in the Camarillo Daily News about MCC "the gay church" and women ministers. It still goes on, via the letters to the editor.

Bibliography

Part 1, Throat 4, Pathology of Evil: why were the Hebrew people "cursed" what was God doing to the church? Part 2 discourses evil and the strengthening of faith in a time of reversal, the Crucifixion, Deliverance, and hope coming at the moment of despair. Very scholarly but rewarding reading.
Book, Mark: The Seventh Trumpet (Excellent book for binding a Bible study in the four gospels. (Companion to these stories will Short) Full of useful information and a wonderful introduction for people who have not done a lot of Bible study.

Projections

Do you have any activities or goals planned for the next quarter? Ministers often find projections extremely valuable in developing their ministries as well as structuring growth in the church. If you have any goals/activities projected for the next 3 month period, what do these include?

1. Inreach: Continue our Bible study 2. Outreach: New cap group & AT group. Fund Raising: Donate our bag. 10th for Cuban refugee fund. We are experiencing growth, and we need to incorporate our new members into our ongoing programs.
I am hoping to attend school this fall at U.C. Santa Barbara.
Will be teaching at Samaritans.

We in the Fellowship Office not only welcome your feedback, we need it in order to know and serve you better. We encourage you to include your thoughts, comments and suggestions with this report, attaching additional pages if necessary.

Things we need to think about: 1. Equalization of pastors salaries (ministers) 2. Is the 10% - 2% system equitable + does it generate enough income. Could a larger assessment of larger churches produce greater income + be a more equitable way of realistically sharing the cost. 3. Is our spending done at U.C. M.C. as carefully as it needs to be. 4. Is the Bd. of Elders an efficient way of running UFMCC or could the District Coordinators act as Bd. of Elders.
